**The painting Ho'opono, is part of a project, Likoliko No'eau: A Flourishing Tradition of Contemporary Hawaiian Art. It is one side of a two sided mural, 'Āina Aloha, created by Kahi Ching, Solomon Robert Nui Enos, Al Lagunero, Meleanna Aluli Meyer, Harinani Kalohelani Orme, and Carl Franklin Ka'ailā'au Pao in 2015. Ho'opono depicts ancestors as they build community through religion, voyaging, and other practices. The mural is part of Meyer's larger film and touring project Ku'u 'Āina Aloha.*
